On 1 July 2015 the most significant changes to South Australia's workers' compensation laws in 30 years will occur. Not only has WorkCover SA changed its name (ReturntoWorkSA), the legislation totally replaces the laws we have been familiar with for the last 30 years. With the introduction of the new Return to Work Act 2014 this coming financial year, employers must refocus the way they manage their injured workers and be proactive in the recovery and return to work of these workers. The new laws place serious obligations on employers to provide suitable employment to a worker who has suffered an injury and there are significant cost consequences for those who do not comply with this obligation.

This seminar is an introductory session which is aimed at providing an overview of the key changes. We hope that you will walk away from the session with a better idea about how you will manage your injured workforce so as to minimise the financial risks to your business while achieving the goal of return to work.

This session is suitable for workers' compensation specialists and a must for all HR Managers.
