Jodie has been a practising solicitor for more than a decade. While her current focus is on Workplace Relations, Employment & Safety her broad background in insurance law and general litigation enables her to link together all aspects of business risk. In 2017 Jodie was recognised in the Doyles Guide as one of Adelaide's leading Employment and WHS lawyers.

Jodie has a reputation for providing pragmatic and cost effective legal advice which is geared towards achieving excellent business outcomes. She is admitted to practice in South Australia, Victoria, Western Australia and the High Court of Australia and worked as a senior lawyer in large law firms and as in-house counsel for Telstra before commencing Bradbrook Lawyers in 2011.

Jodie has significant experience acting as both a solicitor and counsel across multiple legal jurisdictions and has an extensive background in delivering training and seminars to clients. Jodie's broad experience places her in the enviable position of being able to provide advice about smarter ways to achieve excellent business outcomes.
